TWO FIREMEN HURT

Bowes' Amateurs Last in 54 Year Parade Before Footlights

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS O Jan 21 The Bucyrus Opera House on East Mansfield street was destroyed by fire this morning at a loss unofficially estimated at $90,000 The fire was discovered in the rear of a first floor pool room about 1 a m and within 15 minutes the entire southeast corner of the three story building was a mass of flame The cause of the fire has not been definitely determined but Fire Chief William F Mader blamed it on an overheated furnace After nearly 10 hours firemen fought a futile battle with the flames

Situated a short distance from the heart of the city the Opera House for more than half a century was the center of Bucyrus theatrical activity Stars of the theater of one and two generations ago had heard the applause of audiences from the stage of the historic building Today the building was a shambles a few hours after the last curtain call of its last theatrical performance

The fire broke out within an hour after the close of the Monday night performance of Unit 10 of Major Bowes amateurs The troupe remained in Bucyrus last night and had expected to hold a rehearsal in the theater today Many of the instruments of the troup musicians were destroyed

Runs for Extinguisher

The Bucyrus fire department was called when a man in the pool room discovered a blaze in a room at the rear of the pool room and ran to the fire station two doors east for a fire extinguisher But the blaze had already gained considerable headway by eating through a shaft leading to the second and third stories Within a quarter of an hour flames were leaping from windows of the upper stories completely out of control

Six regular firemen and most of the 30 minute men battled the blaze from the interior of the building until forced out by the intense heat and smoke At 1 20 a m the roof crashed through adding more fuel to the roaring furnace within the yet standing walls

The Galion fire department responded at 2 a m to a call for help as the flames threatened to spread to other buildings A strong wind was carrying sparks over a large area Eight lines of hose were played on the flames during the greater part of the night With only the walls standing firemen ceased their work at 10 15 a m today

Two Firemen Hurt

Two firemen Chief William F Mader and Alphonso Neff were injured in the battle Chief Mader was severely cut about the face when hit by the nozzle of a fire hose Neff suffered cuts on one of his hands

Little was saved from the building which housed besides the pool room and opera house a drug store grocery store attorneys offices and lodge rooms

Nothing was saved from the Burk Pharmacy which has occupied a first floor room for 45 years Book accounts scales and a cash register were carried from the Geiger & Roseman grocery also on the first floor The opera house pool room operated by Fred Hess and Clarence Carr saved its billard tables An unidentified woman employed in the pool room restaurant was carried from the building by firemen A $9 000 stock of goods in the Berdan wholesale grocery at the rear of the building was destroyed Manager Don Frost said

Most of the occupants of business and office space in the building reached the scene of the fire too late to save much of their property The second floor rooms were occupied largely by attorneys Attorney Victor Vollrath saved a few records but the content of offices occupied by Attorney William C Beer Sr and Attorney William C Beer Jr and Attorney Charles Schroggs and Attorney W A Monnette were destroyed Valuable records of the attorneys were gone Attorney Schroggs and Attorney Monnette are among the oldest practicing lawyers in the city

Lodge Rooms Destroyed

The third floor housed the Odd Fellows and Maccabees lodge rooms Nothing was saved The opera house was in the rear of the building and ran upward the full three stories All properties and stage equipment were destroyed

The fire drew a huge crowd of spectators but the temperature of four above zero made many of them seek warmth in nearby stores and restaurants

King George Earned Love of His Subjects and World

By International News Service

King George V of England born Prince George Frederick Ernest Albert Guelph will probably go down in history as one of England's most capable and best loved monarchs

Capable of inspiring his people during the dark days of the war of sharing their hardships and anxieties and of discharging the terrific responsibilities of his high office with statesmanlike perfection and dignity the late King earned the love of his subjects and the approbation of the entire world

Son of Edward VII

King George was the younger son of King Edward VII and Queen Alexandra then Prince and Princess of Wales His elder brother Prince Albert Victor Duke of Clarence an amiable shy and delicate fellow survived until January 1892 At that date his younger brother was in his 27th year having been born at Marlborough house on June 3 1865

Prince George received an energetic and exhilarating training and was early brought into contact with practical affairs and the larger world At 12 years of age he was sent to the Royal Naval Training college at Dartmouth and went through the ordinary preparation for a career in England's royal navy

Trained Physically

The physical education of Prince George was not neglected Short and rather slight in figure he was alert active and wiry with no trace of the bronchial trouble which in later life was to cause his family so much concern and which speed his death

He was a crack tent horseman and after his accession to the throne used to ride regularly in the parks of London and Windsor for exercise although he did not share his father's taste for the hunting field or his own eldest son's delight in all forms of equine sport

His favorite recreation out of doors was shooting and in his prime he was extremely expert with gun and rifle being accounted Britain's second best shot

The King's intellectual hobby was philately and he owned what has been characterized as the most valuable private stamp collection in the world

Commissioned in 1884.

In 1884 he received his commission as a sub-lieutenant, and the following year served in the Mediterranean He went through the ordinary routine of any other young naval officer, and owed his rapid promotion to his professional competency as much as to his august connections At the age of 25 he was in command of a gunboat, and at 28, when both by the throne he was [illegible] the severe test of [illegible] light cruiser in [illegible] maneuvres. He became a rear-admiral in 1901, a vice-admiral in 1903 and admiral of the fleet in 1910.

The division engineer, whose office is at Ohio State university, said Mr. Fortenfield would not be connected with the department any longer. The only other change in the division is in Fayette county where the offices of superintendent and resident engineer were combined under the latter.

Mr. Grindell said he will continue both the Marion and Union county offices and divide his time between them. There will be no change in

H C Ackley Asks Injunction To Prevent Line Extension Across Farm

The third injunction suit filed by Marion county farmers in the controversy between a group of farm owners headed by the Farm Bureau and the C D & M Electric Co over extensions of rural power lines halted work on a power line along the Bucyrus road yesterday

Hubert C Ackley farm owner filed the action and was granted a temporary injunction restraining the company from proceeding across the front of his farm with a power line The injunction was granted by Probate Judge Oscar Gast in the absence of Common Pleas Judge Hector S Young, who was out of the city yesterday afternoon.

BONUS RUSHED BACK TO HOUSE

Lower Chamber's Approval of Payment Plan Tomorrow Believed Likely

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Jan 21 — The bonus floodtide swept along with unabated strength today as the Democratic leadership of the house laid plans to whisk to passage tomorrow a baby bond payment bill that mashed through the senate yesterday 54 to 16

Sen Bulkley Democrat of Ohio voted against the bonus bill and Sen Donahey Democrat of Ohio voted for it.

The vote was divided politically as follows For—Democrats 56 Republicans 10 Farmer Labor two Progressive one Against—Democrats nine Republicans seven

By Thursday morning it was indicated the bill to pay off more than $2 000 000 000 of adjusted service certificates in $50 cashable bonds will lie on President Roosevelt's desk provided the house makes no changes that require time to iron out

The fact that yesterday's emphatic volley of aye votes was much more than the two-thirds necessary to override a veto strengthened predictions made even by Democratic leaders that the bill would become law whether President Roosevelt signed it or not. The house already has passed 356 to 59 an immediate payment bill which is similar to the senate's except that it specifies no particular method of payment

Other Members of Britain's Royal Family Make Journey by Automobile

(Copyright 1936 (Associated Press)

SANDRINGHAM Jan 21 The King George V was started tonight on the slow journey which during the next few days will permit the people of his former subjects to look upon the face of the dead monarch for the last time

The body was removed from Sandringham house where George died at 11 55 p m yesterday to the little parish church

George eldest son the Prince of Wales already had made by air plan to London to take up the scepter relinquished by the 70 year old king

The body of George in a coffin was taken on a hand bier escorted by a detachment of grenadier guards through sleet and rain

The kings pipers played a wailing lament as the procession moved along the church walk

Members of the royal family made the journey by automobile

Six workmen of the Sandringham estate carried the coffin from the death chamber to place it on the bier They were dressed in corduroy breeches and leather jackets

The beloved old sovereign died as he had always wished in the quiet and peace of his Norfolk country estate just before midnight last night with the family he loved at his side

An official announcement said the bereaved queen mother, Mary was bearing up with magnificent courage today.

Family Goes To Church

With the vast empire and virtually the entire world sharing their sorrow, the Princess Royal only daughter of King George and Queen Mary, and other members of the royal household went to Saint Mary of Magdalene's church this morning for a holy communion service

The service was conducted by the Archbishop of Canterbury who only a few hours before had given a last blessing to the dying king

Unlike the remainder of the countryside where flags whipped at half staff in a strong wind the royal standard on the little church flew from the top of its pole

A symbol of the last half of the slogan The king is dead! Long live the king, that standard always flies at full staff signifying that the British empire is never without a ruler

The former Prince of Wales now Britain's first flying king left Sandringham house by automobile with the Duke of York at 11 10 a m (6 10 a m, Marion time) for the Bircham, Newton airdrome a few miles away where they took their plane for London

The new monarch piloted the private ship himself as the first innovation of his reign

The royal brothers—one the new king, the other the heir presumptive—wore black overcoats and bowler hats.

Edward, with only a few hours sleep, appeared worn and tired, but he raised his hat in acknowledgement of the greetings of the few who saw him here

The late King George, four days after he underwent a sudden illness, succumbed at 11 55 o'clock (6.55 p. m., Eastern Standard time) last night to complications arising from a severe cold, bronchial catarrh, and a heart weakness—a burden too heavy for the frail form to bear.

King and prostrating the new sovereign, Queen Mary and her sorrowing [illegible] and prayed over King George's bier as the empire of his [illegible] subjects waited to do him homage.

After comforting his mother, Queen Mary, the 41-year-old Prince of Wales conferred with court officials this morning before hastening to London to be proclaimed King Edward VIII.

Respecting their privacy, the saddened subjects and neighbors of the bereaved family left them to their sorrow

From high and low, from all parts of the earth, came messages of condolence. Broadcasts were discontinued and London crowds were hushed.

The body of the late monarch will be removed [illegible] of London, to lie in state [illegible] Westminster hall.

"We are making similar changes throughout the state," Jaster explained.

No Other Changes

F. W. Turner, state highway division engineer for division No. 5, which includes Marion and Union counties, said today the superintendent's position in the only one affected in Marion county and that no other changes are contemplated for the time being. A minor position was abolished in Union county, he added.

"I never have to disappoint them because my Plymouth never fails.
"Ride that route with me some night, carrying half a ton of finals, and you'll see why I picked Plymouth"
Safety is just as important as reliability to Mr Dombrow "I wouldn't even ride in a car without genuine hydraulic brakes," he says. His earlier model Plymouth cost him far less for upkeep or repairs than any other car he has ever owned
"And my new Plymouth," he declares, "is giving me 18 miles to the gallon of gas in city traffic 22 miles out on the road"
All we can add is 'Look at All Three.' Drive them compare them on safety, economy, reliability and comfort!

Letters from Our Readers

Constitutional Protection

Editor of The Star Glory be! Martyrs at Valley Forge be queathed as ingredients with which to formulate rules to go by especially squelchers of constitutional clauses in laws that have a semblance of fairness to the general public

What a Godsend it was to squelch the three letters as being outside the law Note how quickly noble commercial sharks took advantage of the Wine Cliques condition and raised prices of commodities and cut down wages They functioned with opportunities

Strike breakers? Why they were to the manner born and are licensed to hold full sway when dealing with a set of presumptive strikers Of course presumptive labor should be turned down by any hook or crook What right has labor to crave recognition at the hands of martyred capitalism? If they cannot balance their family budget against cramped wages let em go unbalanced

Another noble act worthy of commendation are Shylocks employing child labor Why that noble bunch laudably paid some children four cents apiece per week Uncle Sam should guarantee employers living wages and chide children for their presumption Parents of poor children could horde a saving if they would exercise ingenuity For instance give their kids a penny apiece to go to bed without their suppers and reclaim each penny before permitting them to indulge in a hearty breakfast

Extreme measures should be used in dealing with disgruntled labor Capitalistic classes should be paramount when presumptively challenged by insignificant labor A wise congressman a few years ago sprung the proper gag to deal with that insurrectionary class to-wit Make em owe tomorrow's wages for today's living There's a remedy par excellent—sure fire

Sporting World Is Proud of Britain's New Monarch

By The Associated Press

LONDON Jan. 21 — Although the sporting world mourns the loss of George V it has reason to be proud of the accession of the new king of England For it is doubtful in any British monarch, since the days of Henry VIII who was first of his subjects in most sports of the time has had so varied an experience in sport as King Edward

Golf hunting of all kinds tennis squash polo boxing horseracing steeplechasing are points in the gamut of his interest in sports

His major interest has been in riding but this principal item of his sports has not overshadowed disproportionately his other athletic activities The former prince has ridden mounts in more steeplechase races than anyone except himself knows He has been thrown some 30 times which is a very small percentage of his total races He has also come in many times first Arm in-arm with his steeplechasing have gone his hunting adventures He has been for years one of the most venturesome huntsmen in England being the central figure of the Quorn Hunt at Melton Mowbray and participating in other hunts throughout England This has been no easy pace to keep not a few of the huntsmen who rode with the former prince at one time or another have been killed by falls from their horses

In Africa in 1928

In addition to his fox hunting the former prince is an expert big game hunter His last big game expedition was to central Africa, the autumn of 1928 He was stag hunting in the forests of France in 1924

He plays a fine game of Polo although he usually picks such spirited ponies that his falls approximate those while hunting or steeplechasing He played on Long Island during his American visit in 1924 and although his team lost he exhibited a fine style of play

In golf the new king is a consistent player though perhaps not of the class of Bobby Jones or Walter Hagen Yet when he came to America he displayed a fine brand of play At Edmonton Canada his play brought particular mention One of the new kings feats at golf was driving a golf ball off the peak of the Pyramid during his Egyptian visit in 1923

At tennis the new king has to concede the palm to his brother the Duke of York now heir apparent to the British throne The duke has appeared in doubles in the Wimbledon tournaments paired with Norman Brookes the Australian Davis cup player

Liked To Play Squash

As Prince of Wales the present monarch was an annual competitor in squash tournaments. He usually entered in those conducted by army officers He was uniformly unsuccessful in these tournaments although he was much above the average as a player He customarily reached the second or third round and was then eliminated

The king is a fair amateur boxer He took boxing lessons in his early youth as is customary with British youths of the upper class. Though he is slight of build with apparently not much weight behind his punches, he is able to hold his own in the ring On the way over to America aboard the Berengaria, in 1924 he engaged in almost daily boxing exercise, and succeeded in making things hot for the ship gymnasium trainer He was also interested in watching boxing and has seen a number of contests. He had a long talk with Mickey Walker the American lightweight champion during Walker's visit to England for a championship bout in 1...6 He had a similar talk with Gene Tunney When Tunney fought Dempsey however the prince made the mistake of betting on Dempsey

It has always been the new kings wish to keep 100 per cent physically fit. His day is usually so filled with functions of state and his evenings with functions of society that he must constantly exercise to keep in condition In his bathroom at Marlborough House he had installed a mechanical horse which would give him exercise on days when he could not ride an honest-to-goodness horse He has sometimes been seen in early morning rounding around the palace grounds in track clothes When the Duke and Duchess of York were given a farewell party before leaving for Australia the heir to the throne led the guests at 4 a. m. after the dancing was over in physical culture exercises The prince put the guests through some fancy movements

Britain's New King Knows Much About Life in U. S.

By The Associated Press

WINDSOR England Jan 21 — The United States has never had a more friendly king in Buckingham palace than the new sovereign In this respect he takes after his grandfather Edward VII who visited the United States and took pleasure in the conversation of Americans particularly American women throughout his reign

Unlike his late father George V the new sovereign visited the United States not once but several times The late king visited Canada six times but did not journey south into the United States The new sovereign is as well known to some of the citizens of the United States as he is to some of his own subjects

His connection with the United States however was not merely confined to the period of his visits His connection was continued through various media throughout the time he remained in his own kingdom American shows movies and music were the chief links between the prince of the old world kingdom and the new world He was a frequent member of the audience at American shows in London and if he liked a show he had no hesitation in returning several times

Guest of Coolidge

The chief visit of the new king when prince to the United States was in the summer of 1924 Arriving on the Berengaria the prince was a guest of the Coolidge family in Washington for a day He played polo raced in a speed boat danced whenever possible and was the guest also of various prominent Americans A pony kicked a clod of turf into the prince's eye and he played polo for several days with a patch over one eye In New York City he rode in the subway and toured the city He was in the United States somewhat more than a month and then left for Canada

After a stay in Canada he returned to Chicago in October and visited the stockyards and university At Detroit he was the guest of Henry Ford and visited the Ford auto works He sailed from New York for England Oct 24

The prince's next visit to the United States was merely a brief one He presided with General Dawes at the opening of the International Peace Bridge at Buffalo in 1927 This function was part of an extended visit to Canada In the summer of 1928 the prince was back again in Canada

There are any number of American girls who are now perhaps removing a photo of the Prince of Wales from some secret drawer and reviewing in memory the time they danced with prince king of England

The former prince has confessed himself "to madly an enthusiastic friends of American jazz It is reported that he told an American girl that he craved to American jazz and would have liked to have had a "jazz gallery" in his palace He is an expert performer on the banjolele and is quite adept in picking up selections by ear The leader of an American orchestra performing in England has said that the prince is an excellent drummer with a perfect sense of syncopation rhythm

Meets Gene Tunney

This last summer Gene Tunney had a half-an-hour talk with the Prince of Wales. The prince displayed a surprising knowledge of American pugilism and was intimate acquainted with the steps which led up to Tunney's rise to fame He also met Mickey Walker lightweight champion

The prince revealed himself a movie fan He has himself appeared in several films one of them known as H R H" On one unannounced visit to a London moving picture house the prince was almost mobbed by women as he left the theater

The new monarch slipped readily into American customs while on that visit and actually carried several of them back to London He took to the straw hat while here although the straw hat in England is worn only by high school boys. He permitted himself indulgence in chewing gum And he also used the American pronunciation now and then speaking for instance of a ranch not a raunch He naively remarked that a ranch was larger than raunch and was a paying proposition

McDonald, Weaver Win in Shovel Gym Mat Show

Danny Ringbuster McDonald tamed the herky Jack Domar of Toledo in one of the featured wrestling matches at the Shovel gymnasium last night McDonald took the first fall but the score was evened as Domar came back to make his opponent say uncle with an armlock McDonald's cleverness gave him the deciding fall at the end of two minutes of the last round

Buck Weaver Terre Haute grappler lost the first round to his eastern opponent, Marcel Livernois, but came back to win the match Buck was awarded the second round on a disqualification and he registered the deciding fall with a near crab hold at the end of five minutes

Roy Allen of Birmingham Ala. was awarded the preliminary match at the end of 13 minutes when his opponent Ernie Duggan of Omaha Neb was disqualified for unnecessary roughness

McDonald and Domar first clashed here in a featured match last week but McDonald was unable to finish the match when he keyed himself as a ringpost broke and he fell backward to the floor Domar's rough tactics last night brought continued booing from the crowd and repeated warnings from Referee Bud Wallace of Columbus The Canadian Olympic star took plenty of hard punishment until he used the rolling keylock and semi-nasult pile driver to score the first fall at the end of 20 minutes

Domar broke out of several tight spots during the second round by pulling hair lifting and using numerous punches with his right Domar succeeded in clamping an armlock on McDonald and spilled him repeatedly with it Using terrific pressure he forced McDonald to give up at the end of nine minutes

The deciding fall lasted only two minutes as McDonald pulled a clever surprise on Domar Both of the fighters went into the ropes McDonald stepped outside the ring and as he spilled Domar he dived back through the ropes to score the fall with a neat body press

Buck Weaver took considerable punishment from Marcel Livernois before he became aroused and returned an equal measure Livernois overcame him the deciding fall at the end of two minutes of the last round

INDIANA RETAINS ITS LEAD IN BIG TEN BY BEATING WISCONSIN

Ohio State in Third Place Tie With Michigan in Conference Standings

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO Jan 21—It must be that the Hoosiers of Indiana by racing along out in front in the Big Ten basketball title race got a kick out of winning games the hard way

The pace setters accounted for their fifth straight conference triumph last night, a 26 to 24 decision over Wisconsin and for the fourth consecutive game had to employ stalling tactics during the closing minutes

Indiana led by 15 to 9 at half time but slowed down late in the second half and the Badgers took a 23 to 22 lead The Hoosiers regained the lead on four free throws, two of them by substitute guard Joe Platt then hung on to the ball for two minutes to make the slender margin hold

In its five victories Indiana built up a total margin of only 16 points Michigan was beaten by six points Northwestern and Chicago held the leaders to three-point decisions Minnesota and Wisconsin fell by two-point margins

Michigan climbed into a tie with Ohio State for third place at three victories and two defeats by conquering Iowa 31 to 27 in an overtime thriller at Ann Arbor The Hawkeyes outscored Michigan in field goals 11 to 10 but the Wolverines capitalized on free throws to gain a 27 all tie at the close of regulation time George Rudness and Chelso Tomagno fired in baskets for Michigan in the overtime

Iowa which won its first two games both at home suffered its third straight defeat all on foreign floors

Minnesota achieved one of the prize upsets of the season in defeating Northwestern 30 to 29 in a half raiser at Minneapolis It was the Gophers first victory in five Big Ten starts George Roscoe one of Minnesota's gridiron heroes led the surprise attack with 11 points The defeat was Northwestern's second in four games

CINCINNATI TO PLAY AT OHIO UNIVERSITY

Wednesday Game Important in Buckeye League Race

Special to The Star

DELAWARE O Jan 21 — Wednesday night's game between Cincinnati present leaders and Ohio university at Athens will have a far reaching effect in the Buckeye conference basketball race

The game will give the Bearcats their stiffest test since their victory over Ohio Wesleyan, and a victory for the Cincinnati team will keep Coach Tay Brown's surprising boys at the top of the ladder for at least two weeks since they haven't another conference game until Feb 5

On the other hand Ohio needs this game to keep in the running for the title now held by Ohio Wesleyan A defeat from Cincinnati would hurt Ohio's chances a great deal

Ohio Wesleyan showed perhaps its best form of the season in winning from Miami, 33 to 26 on Saturday night and the Bishops are expected to have little difficulty in maintaining their pace against Marshall's cellar team Wednesday night at Delaware

The only other conference game of the week will find Ohio at Dayton Saturday night Non conference contests this week include Dayton at Lorham Ind, on Thursday night and Mexico City Y M C A at Cincinnati on Saturday night

Harding Cagers To Play Galion Friday in Season's Last League Tilt for Ruby

St. Mary Idle This Week, Junior High Teams To Play

Marion city school basketball teams will see plenty of action as games to be played this week are on home and foreign courts

The Harding High Presidents seeking after a hard fought victory over the strong Ashland High team will trek to Galion for a North Central Ohio league encounter Friday night. The Bobyer men will be seen in action on the home court Saturday night when they entertain the Tiffin Junior O U A M home team at the Shovel gymnasium

Other games involving city school teams scheduled for Friday night include the Vernon Heights Junior High vs the Central Junior High on the Central court

The Harding Presidents were to resume practice tonight to get in shape for the invasion of Galion Friday night Coach Bobyer gave seven of his first string men a brief rest last night and put the junior varsity team through a stiff practice round

Bobyer's team eked out a one-point victory over Ashland in the final second of the game played here last week. Advance dope on the contest this week indicates that the Marion team should experience less trouble than it found in conquering the Ashland court men

Dwight Ruby star center and stabilizer of the Harding crew will be playing his last N C O contest when he enters the game against Galion Hisange will make him ineligible at the close of the semester and Coach Bohyer will be without his services after this week Ruby's last performance with the high school team will be in the home game against the Tiffin Junior O U A M squad Saturday night

Dwight who stands six feet two and one half inches has controlled the tip-off in all of Harding's conflicts this season He is an experienced letterman having been awarded varsity letters at the completion of two previous seasons Especially effective under the opponent's basket, he has not confined his efforts to defensive play but has often placed high in the scoring column

The completion of Ruby's varsity career and the prospect of losing additional players because of semester exams has kept fans guessing just what changes will be made in the lineup At present even Coach Bohyer is not quite certain who can or will be done to keep his championship team on the road to victory

DWIGHT RUBY

The Galion game marks the beginning of the second half of the Harding schedule for the 1935-36 season Thus far the squad has registered eight consecutive victories three of them over league opponents The Bohyer-coached team has earned a reputation of scoring a point a minute It has cracked up 360 points in eight games compared to 157 points for opposing teams

In its victory march the Harding team has bowled over everything that has come its way since the season opened at Upper Sandusky Dec 6. Other teams defeated were Benton Bexley Delaware Fostoria and the three league opponents Shelby Mansfield and Ashland

Galion has won one game and lost two in its three league encounters to hold a 333 average The Galion cagers defeated Shelby 21 to 25 but were trounced 43 to 17 by Ashland and lost to Mt. Vernon in the league opener 21 to 19 Galion's defeat of Shelby serves to indicate that the team has progressed rapidly since its opening games and that it may prove troublesome to the Marion invaders

Reserve teams of the two schools will meet in a preliminary contest to begin at 7 15 p m The Marion junior varsity team has won two games out of three while its opponents have won only one of three games Marion's reserve team also will play Saturday night in a preliminary contest with Tiffin Jr O U A M cagers

COACHES TO DISCUSS GRID RULE CHANGES

Moving Goal Posts and Eliminating Slow Whistle To Be Considered

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH Pa Jan 21—The rules committee of the American Football Coaches association decided today to meet in Pittsburgh Feb 1, with apparently little possibility many important changes will be up for consideration

Dr John B Jock Sutherland of Pitt will be acting chairman in place of Lou Little of Columbia who is ill in New York

Football officials here were of the opinion the proposals for moving the goal posts back from the end zone to the goal line and elimination of the slow whistle will be about all the major questions to get official attention from the coaches committee

Those ideas constituted the main grist from the recent grid gatherings in New York The committee meeting here will offer any suggestions agreed upon to the national football rules committee

Sutherland one of the east's ranking coaches is known to favor letting the regulations largely alone for awhile and let the coaches get used to them

Those eligible to attend the meeting include Elmer Layden Notre Dame Bernie Bierman Minnesota Harry Kipke Michigan Noble Kizer Purdue Ossie Solem Iowa Francis Schmidt Ohio State Don Peden Ohio University

Toes.

In politics it's not healthy to step on toes particularly when they're sensitive Sen Nye chairman of the senate munitions committee is finding that out

His countrymen aren't positive that Sen Nye's conduct of the investigation into the factors and causes of war has been above reproach They are willing to concede however that he has been digging into some interesting and valuable information

It was inevitable that some feelings would be hurt when he dug close to the wartime record of Woodrow Wilson No one has excavated in that vicinity without producing cries of pain The cries emitted in the senate last week by certain staunch Democrats were full of agony

That is a matter of politics The causes of war on the other hand have nothing to do with partisan politics If the munitions committee's investigation is blocked for no better reason than the acute pain in certain sensitive Democratic toes the owners of the toes will have some fancy explaining to do Perhaps Sen Nye is out of line but if he is that could not possibly be a good excuse to stop the investigation for the dubious pleasure of getting even with him

All for $10,000,000.

Legally the Stavisky case which has had France sitting on pins for so many months is closed Nine of 20 persons charged with complicity in the swindles that made Frenchmen so indignant were found guilty One of them was mayor of Bayonne and a member of the chamber of deputies Another was also a member of the chamber of deputies

France has viewed the Stavisky swindles as a symptom of corruption in its government Much as the French love their money they don't overthrow cabinets and riot in the streets over a swindler It was the swindler's ability to get protection from politicians which caused the fireworks Apparently the United States isn't the only country which thinks it might get some where with its crime problem if it could be assured of the honesty of its politicians

Playing Rough.

Practical politics at its best is none too good At its worst it can be—and is—the world's roughest sport.

Every current discussion of politics eventually brings up the probability that the United States will use practical politics at its worst during the presidential campaign For the most part anticipation is based on the theory that all campaigns in which there is a sharp difference of opinion between opposing factions necessarily must be bitter

Recently there has been added to mere anticipation of bitterness tangible proof that politicians are going to play rough The Roosevelt administration has given warning that it will use federal taxing authority against its opponents. By questioning 1929 income tax reports of John J Raskob estranged financial sponsor of the Democratic party it has given its critics particularly its wealthy ones something to think about

Obviously the government can pester them relentlessly if it chooses to do so Everything depends on how rough the Democratic administration thinks it can afford to be. There is fortunately a point where investigation becomes persecution even when a millionaire's income tax is the object of questioning Any time the general public begins to suspect that the power of government is being used too unscrupulously for partisan purposes, in ... would be hurt when he dug close to the ... record of Woodrow Wilson ... one has excavated in that vicinity without producing cries of pain ... cries emitted in the senate last week by certain staunch Democrats were full of agony

Unsettled

The resignation of T Jefferson Coolidge under secretary of the treasury calls attention again to the difficulty the Roosevelt administration has had with financial officials and advisers

Dean Acheson appointed as under secretary by the late William H Woodin President Roosevelt's first secretary of the treasury served from May 19 1933 to Nov 16 1933 He resigned shortly after the Warren gold purchase policy became effective

Henry Morgenthau present secretary of the treasury, succeeded Mr Acheson

Prof Oliver W W Sprague who became financial adviser to the Roosevelt administration in May 1933 subsequently resigned when his opinions lost prestige

Thomas Howes who had been appointed an assistant secretary of the treasury under Mr Woodin resigned in December 1933 after authority over the bureau of internal revenue had been transferred to Under Secretary Morgenthau

L W Robert Jr an assistant secretary submitted his resignation at the same time that Mr Coolidge resigned No particular significance is attached to the resignation of Mr Robert but it is believed that Mr Coolidge resigned because he could not approve the administration's emergency spending policy He did not wish to appear to indorse during an election year a policy in which he did not have confidence Like the resignation of Lewis W Douglas who was unwilling to continue to serve as director of the budget under policies with which he could not agree the Coolidge resignation is expected to have repercussions The country will be interested to hear what Mr Coolidge will say when he is free to speak

The Perfect Investigator.

Investigation has become an important part of the activities of legislative bodies, particularly of congress The problems of government are so numerous and complex that they cannot be dealt with in the ordinary routine of legislative business

The investigating committee has been devised to meet the need of legislators for information Obviously members of an investigating committee should have certain qualifications They are doing important work for their government.

The perfect investigator is a relentless seeker of truth—all truth not merely the segments of truth which please him He is not a seeker of publicity except as it accrues on a basis of merit He has no ulterior motive furthermore

He does not approach hearings with an ax to grind He does not try to intimidate witnesses He tries to uphold the dignity of the power he represents He is intelligent and filled with the blessed essences of temperance and moderation

He is not a slanderer He is not a bully He does not permit partisanship to sway his mind He does not allow his possession of power to tempt him to use it immoderately He does not depart from the main line He is in short an ideal man to obtain and to catalogue information

It is unfortunate there are so few perfect investigators It is particularly unfortunate that the deficiency should seem to be showing up so plainly among members of the senate munitions committee which had and may still have a chance to do a fine piece of work

Neighborhood History

BUSINESS DEVELOPMENTS

Progress in the lives of the pioneer settlers of Morrow county was noted with establishment of a horse mill in the Jacob Foust Jr neighborhood as early as 1824 by a man named Gatchill

The first mill in Cardington township however was erected by Asa Mosher on the Whetstone in 1819 Robert Mosher and David James were 28 days in accomplishing the task but it was said to have turned out 5 bbls that did business equal to the liver models

During the time of high water when the mill was running full blast the community was a busy place Persons living as far away as Lincoln brought grist to the mill and often were obliged to remain over night Free hospitality at the expense of the miller went with the business and although frequently overtaxed was dispensed cheerfully as though accommodations were plenty

Sinclair Lewis Was Wrong

"It Can Happen Here," According to Report of Developments in Washington.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1936, by The Marion Star

WASHINGTON Jan 21—Sinclair Lewis says It can't happen here? But unfortunately it is beginning to happen Federal inquisition into the private affairs books records and transactions of all persons and partnerships as well as corporations and associations is about to be established as a right of the federal trade commission

A new Wheeler Rayburn bill is in the making which would give a federal commission more power than the NRA more power than the securities act more power than the Copeland food and drug bill more power than any federal trade commission act or anti trust law of the past and more inquisitorial rights over the private affairs of the citizen than anything now on the statute books

The first draft of this proposal has been introduced in both houses by Rep Peyburn of Texas Democrat chairman of the interstate commerce committee of the house of representatives and by Sen Wheeler of Montana, Democrat chairman of the senate committee on commerce

Last session the bill passed the senate was subject to a motion to reconsider when its true nature was discovered and there after was never taken up The house did not act at all This time the drive is on with the full support of the federal trade commission which helped draft the bill and the Roosevelt administration

All doubt can now be removed There will be an end soon to the "breathing spell" promised last summer by the President when he said his legislative program had reached substantial completion

While the new bill is supposedly limited to the prevention of deceptive acts by persons and corporations engaged in commerce and commerce is defined as business among the states there is absolutely no limitation to the powers of inquiry which the federal trade commission would acquire The right to go on fishing expeditions among the papers and books of the citizens on mere suspicion is obviously to be derived from the sweeping phraseology of the proposed law

The present law would be amended in several particulars and by words that seem innocent enough on their face but carry a world of meaning and power Thus section 5 is to read as follows "That unfair methods of competition in commerce and unfair or deceptive acts and practices in commerce are hereby declared unlawful

The new language is unfair or deceptive acts and practices and the commission is directed to impose penalties on any body or any firm or corporation that is held by the commission to be guilty of such deceptive acts and practices

What is a deceptive act? It is a new word in the law and it is far broader than dishonest or fraudulent and much more inclusive There are errors committed frequently with no intention to deceive yet the proposed act draws no distinction between willfully and innocently consummated acts that tend to mislead

Heretofore a competitor could file a complaint showing that he was injured and if the deception did work injury to him federal action could be taken Now under the proposed law it isn't necessary for competitors to be affected at all On the broad ground of public interest the federal trade commission can take unto itself the power to determine whether the public is allegedly being injured

To get evidence the federal trade commission will have to become a new police force as big as the department of justice if not bigger and double it with its own corps of detectives and investigators and sleuths For the proposed law gives the commission or its agents access to for the purpose of examination and the right to copy any documentary evidence of any person partnership or corporation being investigated The commission moreover is to have power to subpoena the production of all documentary evidence relating to any matter of any person partnership or corporation being investigated by it

"Any matter" is a broad term and the inquisition could be as comprehensive as the government agents wish to make it Also if there is any doubt that the commission is to acquire unprecedented powers the following paragraph which is one of the most amazing ever contained in proposed law is conclusive of the intent of the bill

The congress hereby confers upon the commission so much of the auxiliary power of congress to obtain information in aid of legislation as may be necessary to enable the commission to carry out the provisions of section six

This is abdication of the legislative function without qualification The section referred to is the one in which section which used to cover only corporations and was limited in its scope but now covers everybody in the country either as an individual or in his relations to any business or profession from advertising to law and from the sale of insurance to the sale of groceries

Also there is a unique feature in the proposed law in that upon the direction of the President or either house of congress or upon its own initiative the commission may investigate from time to time the organization business practices and business management of any person partnership or corporation engaged in commerce and the relationship of such person partnership or corporation to other individuals partnerships and corporations

And what's commerce? Under the new deal concept it is anything affecting commerce directly or indirectly and it will take law suits galore to establish the exact limits of these inquisitorial and punitive functions

Behind the News

Men and Affairs Under The Washington Spotlight

WASHINGTON Jan 21 — Mr Morgenthau told the senators that it looks as if he will have to tap the bankers tills for five billion dollars more in new loans shortly He will need it to pay the bonus relief and the processing tax refund

Forty eight hours later the man who was to handle all this new financing for him quit without official explanation

Naturally all the insiders and outsiders here have been adding up these two enormous events and getting all sorts of answers including chaos inflation or what ever may occur to you The only certain thing is that most of the current answers are likely to be wrong No one knows the real answer including Mr Morgenthau who confessed as much The way this vast incomprehensible situation is sized up frankly by the best fiscal authorities here is this

Mr Morgenthau probably will be able to avoid any greenbacking or inflationary tricks to get his money if he wants to Those who know how he and President Roosevelt have worked this money game believe that both of them will want to

There will probably be no more tricks now with bookkeeping gold profit They will need that 1 800 000 000 for the stabilization fund for a long time yet There probably will be no action to open the gold market as asked by the Committee for the Nation Nor is there any likelihood of recoining the domestic gold and silver markets

Personalities

Pleased and displeased fiscal authorities who know Messrs Roosevelt and Morgenthau thoroughly seem to agree that both are essentially sound money men That is they want to spend but spend within reason Where the pleased and displeased have disagreed and parted is on the question of where the line of reason lies

This is supposed to explain the departure of Assistant Treasury Secretary Coolidge Men with the combination to the treasury vaults say Mr Coolidge did not suddenly become displeased Nor was there any definite break on a definite policy

Rather they noticed Mr Coolidge month by month lately becoming more and more depressed with the prospects of raising money to meet more and more expenditures

Confidence

There is one new reason why the experts believe that Messrs Roosevelt and Morgenthau may safely raise the money in prospect It is that the country is not longer finicky on the money question.

If recent polls of public opinion are any indication the people are thinking and talking about spending, unemployment farm relief etc but not about inflation In fact the inflationist bloc was so weak on the bonus in congress the other day that it was unable to put up even a good fight Two years ago Mr Roosevelt had to trick them out of putting something over on him (silver)

Burden

The inside on the tax situation is as clear as the imminence of an expected spanking

New dealers do not want any new taxes levied before election if they can help it They may have to impose some excise taxes in connection with the new farm program but they will hope until the last electoral vote is counted to delay the new general tax legislation which the current situation obviously demands That is sure politic

It is equally clear where the new burden is going to fall when it does There is no more real revenue in the incomes there are now Nor is there much more to be gained from the poor and even more by sales and excise taxes

There is no one place where the government can get such revenue as is now being talked about That is in taxes on incomes below $5,000 They will pay the bill

Glitter

No one here is paying any attention to the new pressure campaign of the committee for the nation The idea prevalent on the inside here is that the opening of the gold market would cause the price of gold to go down not up The reason why the agitation for reopening of the domestic gold and silver markets is not getting anywhere either is that such action might cause hoarding again The current financial situation is not yet so settled as to prevent a possible rush into two such basic commodities out of respect to their fixed value which incidentally has not been entirely fixed during the last six years

Worse

The tight lipped secretary of the treasury was conservative in his estimates to the senators The truth is he will probably have to raise a lot more than $5,000,000,000 in new money during the next seventeen months

It took a sub bottom estimate on the bonus and on undisclosed relief needs Also he failed to figure in the new farm program a possible farm tenant bill and a couple of billion dollars of other possible odds and ends However this does not alter his financing chances materially Nor does the prospect that he will have to do about $6,000,000,000 of refinancing in the next seventeen months Refinancing is comparatively easy

The Marion building on South Main street was purchased by the Knox Realty Co of Columbus from J W McNalley also of Columbus The purchase price was reported to be about $100 000

The feature picture at the Marion theater was "Winds of Chance" with Viola Dana and Ben Lyon in the leading roles The Grand had a vaudeville show headed by Max York and Gang

Members of the Quest club were entertained by Miss Margaret Selter at her home on South Main street

Mrs C O Brown Mrs Frank Pfeiffer Mrs J R Bray and Mrs I T Barcar were enrolled as members of Marion Circle Child Conservation league at a meeting held at the home of Mrs F M Sage on Girard avenue

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Friday Jan 21 1916

Intense excitement was stirred up along the Mexican border by reports that the bandit chief Francisco Villa had been captured by federal forces Later reports however disclosed that Villa had escaped a trap set for him

Turkish forces in the Caucasus and Mesopotamia were in headlong flight before Russian and British forces The Turks were reported to be without ammunition

Jonathan Freeman 60 died at his home in Richwood

The feature picture at the Marion theater was Life's Whirlpool with Holbrook Blinn in the leading role The Alhambra announced the Max Irwin famous Broadway star would be here Jan 26 in "3 Washington Square."

Mrs Rosena Thibaut 74 died at the home of her granddaughter Mrs Edward Dawson miles south of Marion

R D Schaffer of Toledo representative of the Central Union Telephone Co visited Marion and assured C E Hintress secretary of the Chamber of Commerce that all wooden telephone poles would be removed from the business section of the city within the near future.

CHANGE FOUGHT ON NEUTRALITY

Some Want Present Law Extended To Permit More Deliberate Consideration

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Jan 21—Talk of extending the present neutrality law for a year to permit more deliberate consideration of permanent legislation arose today in senate circles

While administration leaders continued to forecast early action on the permanent policy other senators said digressity of opinion on the complex issue might delay it

A law now on the books but expiring Feb 29 forces the President to lay down an embargo on arms and munitions shipments to belligerents but does not empower him to curb the flow of other trade

Would Restrict Trade

Proponents of legislation given him certain discretion in restricting commerce in materials essential to war and confine several other provisions besides the mandatory arms embargo

One prominent member of the senate foreign relations committee who did not desire to be quoted by name said committee men were talking more and more of a resolution offered by Sen Thomas Democrat of Utah to prolong the existing law Some of them he said felt there was insufficient time between now and Feb 29 for consideration of such a momentous question

This view was taken by Thomas himself He pointed out that without an extension of the present law congress had less than a month and a half in which to frame a permanent policy

Says Time Not Appropriate

Thomas said there was also a feeling that to alter policy while the Italian Ethiopian war was in progress would be like changing the rules in the middle of a game

However Sen Robinson Democratic leader forecast that the committee would report out a permanent measure with in week or 10 days

Some friends of the neutrality legislation feared that the back fire against the munitions investigation would serve to delay action on the permanent law Such deep feeling was aroused by the charge of Sen Nye Republican of North Dakota that former President Wilson falsified that they felt it would impede consideration of the measure sought by Nye

Dares Senate to Stop Probe

With angry Democrats determined to cut off his investigation funds Nye retaliated by virtually daring the senate to squash the aviation machine gun and steel company inquiry he had outlined for the next three weeks

In a press release yesterday Nye listed the witnesses his munitions committee had called for questioning He explained that since the committee's funds were now gone it was up to the senate whether it wants this investigation stopped

The committee investigators had expected "interesting developments from questioning aviation companies on the extent of shipments of war planes to foreign countries in recent years including Italy Germany and Japan Nye's list of prospective witnesses also included representatives of large steel companies and preparedness organizations

Cites Secret Paper

Nye had contended that his remark that Wilson falsified on a point of World war history was borne out by a secret document

It was learned last night that several months ago the state department made several hundred state papers available to Nye committee but stipulated that about 20 of them must be held confidential

It was explained that these 20 contained international secrets entrusted to the United States by foreign governments and that they could not be published without the consent of these governments

ROAD DEPARTMENT POSITIONS COMBINED

the policy of either maintenance department he said and unless he receives orders from the state department the present force of workers will be retained

In Service 15 Years

Clyde Porterfield has been connected with the state highway department the last 15 years and has been supervisor nine years He has not made plans for the immediate future he said

Until 1933 he also had supervision of Morrow county In that year the job was taken over by H A Jacoby the present superintendent

Mr Grindell has been in the highway department as Union county superintendent nearly three years He formerly was in the road contracting business and in 1932 ran for Union county surveyor He is married

The Associated Press reported that three other county superintendents jobs were abolished today

Other mills sharing in the refund are Bauman Bros of Lancaster and C. W Miller Co of Newark.

ROYAL KIN MOURN MONARCH'S DEATH

the Thames and near of the traditional royal residences

King George probably will go to his last resting place in a vault there beside the bodies of his father King Edward VII Charles I and Henry VIII

Here in Norfolk near the bleak coast 100 miles northeast of London the neighbor subjects mourned the passing of the country squire sportsman churchgoer and family man they had known for years

Elsewhere in the empire it was King George's devotion to duty which inspired the British people through the long dreary days of their greatest war and subsequent depression which was sorely missed in these days of international tenseness

The sovereign declining gradually for days passed on to a peaceful end unconscious in his last moments

Family at Bedside

Knowing that death was near the royal family remained close to the sick room throughout the long sad evening

Just before midnight physicians summoned the family to his majesty's side The Archbishop of Canterbury long a friend of the king gave a benediction

In the great white chamber overlooking the Norfolk country side were Queen Mary the Prince of Wales the Duke of York the Duke and Duchess of Kent and Princess Mary—the princess royal and wife of Earl of Harewood

The king's third son the Duke of Gloucester was absent A severe cold kept him in Buckingham palace in London

Queen Breaks Down

Queen Mary whose sturdy self control had kept her calm during her husband's brief illness broke down only at the last She wept as the strength of the man whose partner she had been for 43 years ebbed slowly and his heart action ceased

Within the sick room now become a death chamber the queen turned from her husband to her eldest son for support

The Prince of Wales who automatically became king at the moment of his father's death comforted his mother in that hour of greatest grief just as he had through the ominous hours immediately preceding death

The royal family converging in broken hushed tones slowly walked from the room Its lights then were extinguished

Queen Mary newly become the queen mother retired weeping to her own bedroom nearby where her only daughter the Princess Royal and the Duchess of Kent attempted to console her

Later the queen telephoned news of the death to the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester at Buckingham palace the Duchess of York at Windsor Queen Maud of Norway—King George's sister—at Oslo and the Duke of Connaught uncle of the king

Issue Last Bulletin

The royal physicians issued their last bulletin

Death came peacefully to the king at 11 55 p m in the presence of her majesty the queen the Prince of Wales the Duke of York the Princess Royal the Duke and Duchess of Kent

(Signed) Williams Hewett and Dawson

A youth riding a bicycle with a dim oil lamp flickering before him brought a copy of it down the darkened drive to the jubilee gate the entrance to the royal grounds near the garage and servants quarters

Without dismounting he deliberated the case to a servant. Slowly the announcement was removed from its old brown leather holder

The gatekeeper walked solemnly across the drive and in the light of two great lanterns posted the bulletin proclaiming the passing of the ruler of the world's greatest empire

Chimes Ring in Tower

The chimes of the Sandringham church clock echoed in the distance after striking half an hour after midnight Only the wail of the wind through the elms along the drive disturbed the silence as all lingers read it in silence and turned away

Sir Frederick J Williams Sir F Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn who signed the last bulletin had issued also the first on Friday It told a stricken empire that his majesty's heart weakness must be viewed with disquiet

The burden of his silver jubilee celebration last year the death early in December of his sister Princess Victoria and his insistent attention to heavy state duties contributed to his end

In the last two days the monarch was in a state of semi coma save for brief intervals when he was able to recognize his queen and to sign yesterday the document creating a council of state to assume most of his duties until death

Suffers No Pain

At the end he suffered no pain

In the 26th year of his reign King George succumbed at almost the same hour as his father King Edward VII who died in 1910 at 15 minutes before midnight

King George's death followed by almost exactly 25 years that of his grandmother Queen Victoria She died on Jan 22 1901

The monarch's demise set into motion automatically the machinery carrying on the long line of English kings

The elaborate traditional rituals and ceremonies with which Britain installs her sovereigns called the new king to London to meet the privy council for the oaths of allegiance

Parliament was summoned this afternoon under the act requiring it to assemble after a monarch dies

Won't Be Crowned for Year

Although the former Prince of Wales immediately became king precedent indicated he would not be crowned formally until after the year long mourning period has closed He is the first bachelor king since 1760

With any name he passed open for his adoption it became virtually certain the new sovereign would be King Edward VIII He has always signed himself Edward P and affixed the simple word "Edward" to a message to the lord mayor of London communicating the news of his father's death

King George's second son the 40-year-old duke of York became heir presumptive The duke's 9-year old daughter Princess Elizabeth became second in line of succession to the throne

Following her in the line were the Duke of York's second daughter Margaret Rose the Duke of Gloucester the Duke of Kent and the latter's infant son David

KING GEORGE EARNED LOVE OF ALL PEOPLE

fore he was 60 King George had visited every part of his empire

On May 6 1910 King Edward VII died The Prince of Wales ascended the throne of his ancestors as King George V The new king was just under 45 at his accession in the prime of his life well equipped for his difficult role as the head of a constitutional monarchy and a mighty empire and prepared by temperament and training to endure the tremendous strain which in a few years was to come upon the rulers and governments of the world

In the four years that intervened before the coming of the World war difficult experiences lay before the king Party strife was bitter the Irish Home Rule issue was rearing its head and other domestic questions placed difficult questions before the king

But George V had not studied in the constitutional school of Victoria and Edward in vain With canny diplomacy he left the matters in the hands of his ministers offering only the advice and recommendations of a sagacious mind and the problems were ironed out with credit to the monarch and statesmen concerned

Tested by War

The World war which put so many persons and institutions to the supreme test brought home the real character of their king to the consciousness of the British people Previously it might be said that though he was generally respected, his personality had not deeply impressed itself upon the nation

From the beginning of the conflict he took his place as the visible embodiment of the national spirit and feeling In his own person he set an example of hard work frugality and unostentatious living

The king did not encumber his generals by taking the position of a titular commander-in-chief but he kept closely in touch with the British army in the field He made several visits to the front and on one occasion suffered a painful injury when he was thrown from his horse while inspecting some troops

Resume Peace Work

In the years that immediately followed the war the nation was painfully picking up the threads of its normal pursuits and occupations The king resumed his task of stimulating and encouraging the useful activities and innocent recreations which had been arrested or enfeebled

Home politics in these post war years gave the king abundant cause for anxiety and sometimes severely tried his constitutional experience and judgment The country was disturbed by labor disputes excessive taxation economic troubles and the rapid growth of socialism and communism

The Irish problem again became acute and culminated in rebellion and civil war In this latter respect the political sagacity of King George was put to the proof In a speech from the throne opening the first session of the parliament of northern Ireland he voiced sentiments which are directly credited with going a long way toward quelling the unrest in Erin's isle and with promoting a temper of compromise which led to the signing of the Anglo Irish treaty

Helps New Party

When the Labor party came in to power in 1923 for the first time the king's ability was put to another severe test The king did all he could to make the path easy for the new government most of its members being fresh to high office

National regard for the monarch was strikingly illustrated when he was stricken with pneumonia and complications in November 1929 Crowds stood outside the palace for hours day and night watching the window of the room in which the king was fighting a battle for life

The story of how he pulled through this illness after months of careful nursing by a devoted wife and family and with the assistance of the foremost doctors in the land is public knowledge

Although outwardly the king appeared to be in robust health after his convalescence it is no secret that his medical advisers always remained fearful that undue exposure would lead to a recurrence of the illness, with probably fatal results Even in mid-summer the king wore heavy clothing

Such was King George V A patriotic and capable ruler a good son a good husband a good father a good friend a kindly honorable and prudent man with a reserve of quiet energy and courage which enabled him to respond to the many emergencies and perplexing problems he was called upon from time to time to face

It may be that history will not place him definitely among the very greatest of English kings but there can be little doubt that it will pay its unreserved homage to him as one of the very best. By sheer hard work and character he won his way to the hearts of the people of the British empire.

QUEEN MARY CALM UNDER DEATH BURDEN

By The Associated Press

SANDRINGHAM England Jan 21—England's courageous Queen Mary her steady calm broken only momentarily bore up well today under the grief of the loss of the king to whom she had been a wife for 43 years

The first rush of public sympathy sweeping in from all parts of the world after the death of the 70-year old monarch came to the queen two years younger

She broke down in those last minutes just before midnight Monday and wept as her husband died Comforted by her eldest son the new King Edward she retired from the death chamber to her own room in Sandringham house

This morning regaining the sturdy self control she displayed throughout his majesty's brief illness she was able to telephone the tragic news to other distant members of the royal family

BONUS BILL RUSHED TO LOWER HOUSE

dent Roosevelt's last step he remained silent on the question and speculation as to what he would do Sen Borah Republican of Idaho sized up the situation this way

Per Harrison Democrat of Mississippi has stated that if the senate passed this bill it would become law We know the intimate relation of the senator with the President His statement means either the President will sign the bill or in spite of the President's supporters in the senate will vote to over ride the veto

Funds Next Question

Legislators considering the house vote so certain as to be merely perfunctory routine turned to the next question How to provide the necessary cash When that question comes up for debate inflation forces will rally for another attempt to print new money

The ultimate cost of the baby bond bill is estimated at $2 491 000 000 but figures on the immediate cost ranging from $1 000 000 000 to $ 000 000 000 depending on how many veterans choose to cash their bonds quickly

Beginning next June 15 veterans can turn their bonds into local postoffice for cash or they can hold them and draw 3 per cent interest until 1941

Bonus lenders are considering the possibility of tacking an appropriation on to the independent offices supply bill which was passed by the house and is now in the senate

Inflationists To Try Again

Champions of inflation who conferred late yesterday in the office of Sen Thomas Democrat of Oklahoma indicated they would try to have the appropriation measure stipulate that instead of borrowing the money the treasury issue new currency against the gold and silver reserves

When we do appropriate we are going to have to find about $2 000 000 000 Thomas said our plan is the alternative to pushing more treasury bonds on the market to get the money

Thomas added We want to make money cheaper prices higher and debts easier to pay

UNWED KING SETS TONGUES A WAGGING

the face of things so potential of civil court life as a royal pair

In view of the fact that the bride would automatically become queen it is thought that the government will take a keen interest and perhaps a hand in any negotiations which Edward himself might initiate or others might put under way to procure a royal consort for the new king

As one set of negotiations after another on the continent has failed to find a bride for the prince from among the royal houses of Europe the British nation has become more and more of opinion that Edward should confine his matrimonial survey to a narrower circle and give them an English queen Precedents for such a move are not lacking The wife of the Duke of York is an English girl and before her marriage bore the title of Lady Lilizabeth Bowes-Lyon

Infanta Mentioned

The name most frequently coupled with that of the new king has been that of the Infanta Beatrice of Spain The princess is 19 years old and beautiful Color has been lent to this repeated linking of names by the many visits which the king and queen of Spain have made together with the princess to England and the many return visits made by the Prince of Wales to Spain The prince was especially fond of visiting Spain at Christmas times

The difference in religion between the King of England and the Crown Princess of Spain is believed to have placed a considerable obstacle in the way of their possible marriage By one of the few written documents of the British constitution known as the act of settlement passed in the beginning of the 18th century the king must be a Protestant. On the other hand the Infanta of Spain's father bears the title His Most Catholic Majesty

Ingrid On List Too.

Another name often mentioned has been that of Princess Ingrid 18-year old daughter of Crown Prince Gustav Adolph of Sweden Rumors were current last year that an engagement was imminent Yet another name advanced has been that of the Princess Astrid of Sweden but her recent marriage effectually killed these rumors

There are numbers of well-informed people in England who believe that the prince has no intention whatever of getting married It is significant in this connection that no accommodation for a bride was provided in Marlborough house which was partially reconstructed in 1928 as a home for the prince

There are precedents in English history of kings who married after they reached the throne or who re-married following upon the death of their spouse The most notable is that of Henry VIII

Former Councilman Gets Injunction Against Proposed City Purchase at Delaware.

DELAWARE O Jan 21—An injunction suit filed yesterday against the Delaware city council halted the scheduled receiving of bids for bonds to finance municipal purchase of the Delaware water plant here

Council was prepared to receive bids on water revenue bonds in the amount of $ 95 000 (from 14 representatives of bond houses) After the injunction suit was filed bond house representatives preferred to wait as a purchase was out of litigation before bidding because of the probable delay in delivery of the bonds

Walter W Hill former council member whose term expired Jan 1 filed the injunction suit alleging the $595 000 bond issue and $560 000 for purchase of the land and $35 000 for payment of the fire hydrant rentals The Delaware Water Co holds judgments against the city for the overdue hydrant bills

Hill contends the city has no right to issue bonds to pay contractual obligations such as hydrant rental bills

Several council members were willing to ignore the injunction suit because no court order had been granted in the case Councilman P J Foley asked Will not hear it up? when the injunction petition was read

Council authorized its utility committee headed by R B Miller to try to work out a plan to pay off the hydrant rental bills and clear the way for issuance of bonds solely for the purchase of the plant.

Threat of a general fire came when sparks set fire to the roof of the old Roehr mill about a block and a half away The blaze was quickly extinguished however The Paxton garage and residence immediately east added another threat but water played on these buildings prevented a spread of the flames

The opera house building is owned by the heirs of the late General Edward Vollrath Six months ago the building was placed in receivership through a partition suit in connection with the settlement of the estate

While the building was burning the members of the Major Bowes amateur troupe were guests at a party at the home of Robert Breisinger This troup Unit 10 is billed to appear at the Palace theater in Marion Saturday night
